

DEPRAVED GIRL SENT TO PRISON

Isabel Hanson Holds Record as Being Utah Penitentiary's
Youngest Convict.

IS REGARDED AS HOPELESS

HAS LONG RECORD OF CRIME
CHALKED UP AGAINST HER.

For the first time in its history, the Utah penitentiary last night held within its walls as a convict a girl 16 years of age. Isabel Hanson, nee Larson, was sentenced by Judge Armstrong yesterday to serve a year in state prison for stealing $50 in cash and about $40 worth of wearing apparel from Mrs. Minnie Smart of 386 Wall avenue, with whom she was boarding. According to the officers who arrested the girl she is a specimen, pure and unadulterated, of total depravity. Her home is at Mount Pleasant. Prior to her marriage a year ago she had served a term of three years in the state industrial school at Ogden. Upon her return to her home she married, after a few months, to avoid another prosecution. Her husband's name is David Hanson.

No Married Life for Her.

"I had a week of married life," explained the girl yesterday, "and that was enough for me. I left my husband and sued him for divorce. I came to Salt Lake, and went to Mrs. Smart's house to live. A fellow was putting up for me. He works in a line kiosk. 'Did you steal this stuff from Mrs. Smart?' asked the reporter to whom the girl was talking. 'Yes; I stole it all right,' was the reply. 'I just couldn't help it. I don't know why I stole it.' 'You're pretty young to go to the penitentiary,' was suggested. 'Oh, I don't give a d—n,' was the nonchalant reply.

Wouldn't Make a Plea.

The girl refused to make a plea for clemency. She has been in jail two or three weeks and tired of the restrictions there. She told the officers she was willing to plead guilty so that she could be sent to the penitentiary. The law forbids the sending of married women to the industrial school.

Deputy Sheriff Joe Sharp urged her to make a talk in her own behalf. She refused, and seemed really anxious to be sent to the state penitentiary. She answered all of Judge Armstrong's questions in a don't-care way and betrayed not the slightest emotion when she was sentenced.

Prior to her plea Mrs. Smart offered to drop the case if the girl's father would pay for the wearing apparel which she stole. The father ignored all pleas and answered no letters addressed to him on the subject. The police believe the girl is a natural born criminal, and that she will come out of the penitentiary more hardened than she goes in.

AUCTION IN THE COURT.

Spirited Bidding for Interest in Nevada Mining Claims.

Judge Armstrong held a session of court yesterday which Attorney C. C. Dey characterized as "transforming the court into an auction room." The court sold to the highest bidder the interest of James Gerber, who died August 29, 1900, in the Don Pedro No. 2 and the Last Show mining claims in Nevada. Under an order of court the administratrix of the estate had advertised for sealed bids for the mining interests. These were opened in court yesterday morning and were as follows: Frick, Edwards & Smith, $8,000; C. C. Dey, $8,500; George W. Lawrence, $8,550. The administratrix asked that Judge Dey, the highest bidder, be declared the purchaser, whereupon H. C. Edwards announced that his firm desired to make a higher bid.

Judge Dey objected to "turning the court into an auction block," but Waldemar Van Cott, representing the administratrix, held that other bids could be received. Judge Armstrong held with him, whereupon the Mammoth Mining company, which was represented in court, bid $10,350. Judge Dey raised the bid $10, and then the Mammoth company bid $11,000. No other bids were offered, and the Mammoth company was awarded the claims.

Court Notes.

Judge Armstrong yesterday signed a decree of divorce in the case of Mary Sanford vs. Benjamin Sanford. The couple were married in Salt Lake, Dec. 1, 1901.

Martha Keate yesterday applied for letters testamentary on the estate of the late Dr. Walter Keate, who died in the L. D. S. hospital, April 15. The estate is valued at $10,000.

Franklin H. Raley, named as executor in the will of Eli T. Raley, who died April 4, yesterday applied to the district court for letters testamentary. Deceased left an estate valued at $9,000.

Edward Rushton yesterday sued Christian Lovendal for the recovery of 660 head of sheep, their increase and their wool clip. Plaintiff alleges that defendant has the sheep wrongfully in his possession.

Judgment for defendant was rendered by Judge Ritchie yesterday in the case of W. G. Tuttle vs. Wells Fargo & Co., et al. Plaintiff sued for $407.50, which he alleged was due him as a commission on the sale of real estate.

Judge Ritchie yesterday gave William H. Taylor judgment for $885 against the San Pedro, Los Angeles & Salt Lake Railroad company. Plaintiff sued to recover $4,100 on the ground that nineteen horses which he had shipped over defendant's railroad from Salt Lake to Caliente had either died or been permanently injured on the trip.

Two smelter smoke suits were dismissed in Judge Lewis' court yesterday by stipulation between the parties. They were as follows: Mahala Higgins vs. United States Smelting company, wherein the plaintiff sued for $1,900 damages, and Ann Gilbert vs. the American Smelting & Refining company, wherein plaintiff sought to recover $1,000.
